The Grade 10 Distributed Learning courses are designed for students who are motivated and work on their course work at home. These students have access to the FVDES tutoring center for additional help. The onsite teachers and DL students maintain regular communication, throughout each week.

Parents/Guardians and Home Facilitation

How can parents/guardians help their child be successful with Distributed Learning?

Parents/guardians play an active role by providing guidance, support and direction to their child. The responsibilities also include:

- Become familiar with the FVDES curriculum, content, and resources of the program/course(s).
- Provide a suitable permanent workspace for their child.
- Establish a daily/weekly schedule that includes enough time to cover the course work.
- Ensure their child works on a regular basis.
- Review all work and assignments, with their child before submitting to FVDES.
- Help their child make the arrangements for taking tests, and ensures that they are prepared.
- Review returned work and feedback from the teachers, with their child.
- Monitor the online grade' --book with their child.
